2. Climate Change, Health, and Equity (American Public Health Association) (10-30 min)

Fundamentals of Climate and Health Equity

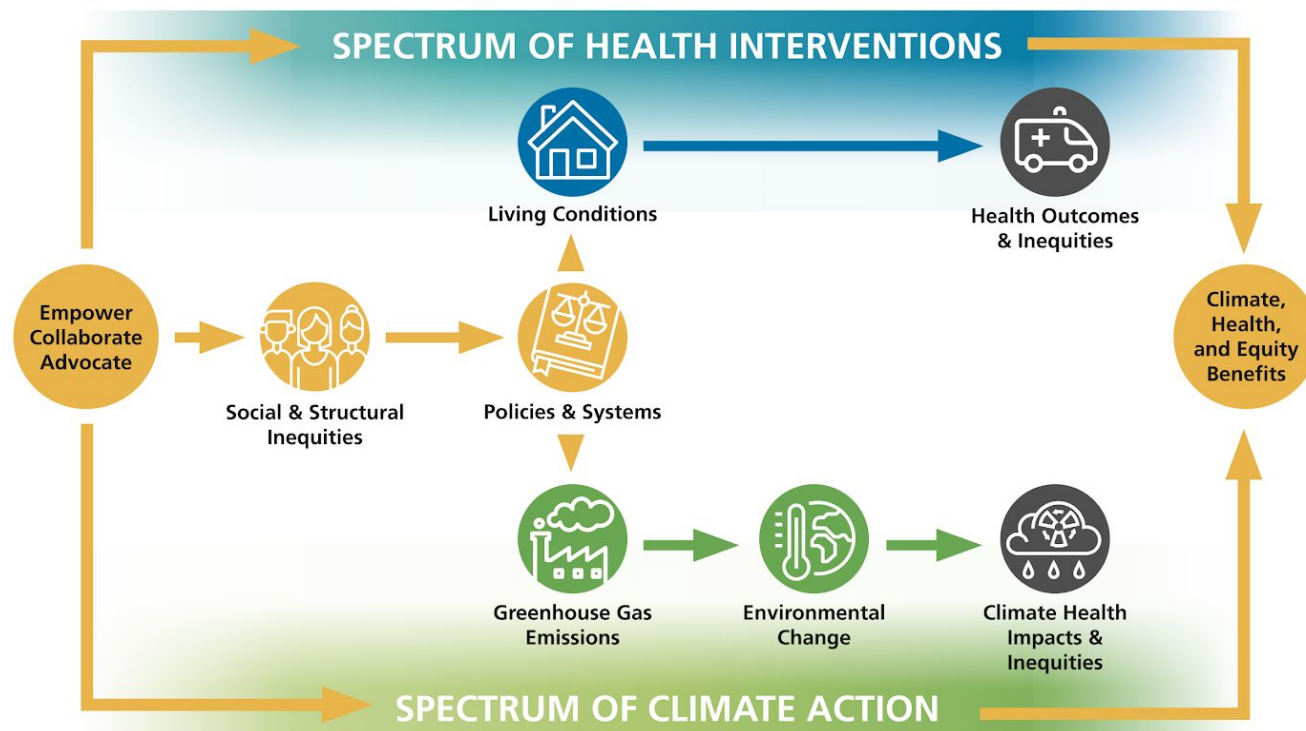

- The root causes and upstream drivers of climate change and health inequities are often the same.
- The health risks and impacts of climate change are not equally or fairly distributed across people or communities.
- Climate change exacerbates existing health and social inequities.
- Interventions that act on upstream shared systemic causes can most effectively address both climate change and health inequities.
- Building political and economic power and voice are essential components of climate resilience.
